Creating a dynamic waste solution for a Multi-Family property in Alexandria, VA.

Multiple families means multiplied waste. And a clean and efficient living environment is important to your residents and will have an impact on who renews their lease and who moves in.

Typical Multi-Family property waste issues include overflow, missed collections, and overpaying, wrapped up in a lack of insight and transparency.

Lack of Transparency

This Multi-Family Property (who would like to remain anonymous) was searching for something better: more transparency, more accuracy, and less noise and traffic at a lower cost.

Traditional waste services conduct collections on a fixed schedule and a fixed route, based only on vague predictions. Eager to avoid overflow and litter, the property requested as many collections as they could: collections on every container, six days a week.

To combat this, Enevo provided its data-driven, custom waste services. Our patented sensor measures dumpster fill levels while advanced analytics software studies and predicts waste behavior, ensuring that dumpsters are only collected when they need to be. Then our dynamic routing technology creates a collection route that drives the fewest number of miles while avoiding overflow, increasing efficiency and sustainability. When we make fewer collections, costs decrease. We then track progress and savings on our analytics portal and share the results with our customers.

The Results

Once dumpsters were equipped with sensors, they immediately began collecting data and adjusting services accordingly. In just 3 months, Enevo's technology and seasoned waste professionals were able to drastically decrease collections, reduce costs, and lessen noise and traffic in the community.

We're proud of that 12.5% savings. With Enevo, waste services don't skip a beat – they just get better and cost less. Our technology creates truly dynamic waste solutions, with every decision rooted in data.
